GROW

“My favorite part is getting to play with friends.”
- Peer Helper

While this connection can be clearly beneficial for peer helpers are valuable as well, including:

- › Encouragement of teamwork and development of skills for helping others
- › Understanding and acceptance of those that are different
- › A fun and rewarding experience!

THE PROGRAM

Integrated social groups are led by experienced adults who guide peer helpers through activities purposefully chosen to encourage infection.

Kids with special needs learn social skills by observing their peers. Through modelling and positive interactions, they gain a better understanding of the world around them, making it easier to become part of the larger community.

It's a win-win! Participation in Connections program for as little as 1-2 hours a week can an incredibly positive and lasting impact on ALL involved!
